

NewGen Vineyard Services LLC Vineyard Internship

NewGen Vineyard Services is offering an exciting internship opportunity to qualified individuals for the 2019 vineyard growing season. Interns chosen to assist with our customer's vineyards will enjoy a unique opportunity to work in beautiful Willamette Valley vineyard settings in the state's most prestigious AVAs for winemaking. This position offers valuable learning opportunities for viticulture and enology students that wish to further their understanding of field data collection, data software integration with farming, and resulting recommendations from the data analysis. The experience will provide resume building blocks as well as networking opportunities for a future in the Oregon Wine Industry.

All of this comes with the expectation of hard work and dedication to the following responsibilities...

- Collection of vine capacity data and lag weights necessary for estimating grape yields.
- Learning to identify and record key grape vine phenology data throughout the season.
- Helping with the collection and submission of vine tissue sampling for nutritional management.
- Learning to identify and scout for the presence of vineyard pest and diseases.
- Learning to identify and detect water deficit conditions in vineyards and report them to supervisors.
- Count and log dead vines in new plantings so that new vines can be ordered and planted.
- Other opportunities as presented throughout the season.

Additionally the following qualifications are expected of potential candidates...

- Ability to work both independently and in a team environment.
- Enjoyment of working outdoors in farming environments for several hours a day.
- Good communication skills (Spanish speaking is not required but beneficial).
- Great organizational skills for putting together a weekly work plan and carrying it through.
- Ability to utilize and work within some common spreadsheet software and IOS applications.
- Must have a good driving record and dependable transportation.
- Ability to lift 40 pounds.

Contact Ryan Wilkinson if interested and to schedule interview. Phone number (541) 760-9752 and email ryan@newgenvs.com